Scope and Contents

The Nahum Goldmann collection consists of correspondence, manuscripts, oral histories, audiovisual recordings, scrapbooks, photographs, personal papers, press clippings, and awards related to Nahum Goldmann's activities as a Zionist and Jewish activist. The collection documents Goldmann's work with the many Jewish and Zionist organizations he was involved in, most notably the World Jewish Congress and the Jewish Agency for Palestine. Goldmann was a prolific writer, and this collection contains drafts and correspondence related to many of the books, articles, and speeches that he wrote to promote his ideas. A small amount of material covers Goldmann's personal and family life. The collection also contains articles and correspondence written about Nahum Goldmann, including a large number of condolence letters. For more information, see the series-level descriptions.

Scope and Contents

This series is arranged into three sub-series. Sub-series 1: By Nahum Goldmann consists mainly of correspondence and reports written by Nahum Goldmann and related to his diplomatic work, including his efforts to aid Jewish refugees during WWII and his work with the Claims Conference. Sub-series 2: Family consists of correspondence between immediate members of Nahum Goldmann's family on topics such as other family members, events, travel, finances, events, health, work, etc. Most of the letters are between Nahum and Alice Goldmann and their son Guido Goldman. Sub-series 3: About Nahum Goldmann consists of correspondence about Nahum Goldmann, mainly between his son Guido Goldman and others. The bulk of material in this sub-series consists of condolences sent to Guido Goldman and Alice Goldmann after Nahum Goldmann's death on August 29, 1982. There are also copies of replies to these condolences, and condolences sent to Guido Goldman after the death Alice Goldmann in 1996. Guido Goldman's correspondence about Nahum Goldmann's publications, events, travel, and legacy are also included in this sub-series, along with related documents such as notes, itineraries, etc. Each sub-series is arranged chronologically, although some file units span multiple folders and multiple years. A small amount of correspondence is located in other series (including series 3: Personal and Legal Documents, series 4: Oral History, series 6: Scrapbooks and Photo Albums, and series 7: Newspaper and Magazine Articles); in such cases the correspondence is closely related to the other materials and they were originally grouped together.

Oral History [R], 1975-2013, undated

Date: 1975-2013, undated

Scope and Contents

This series is restricted until January 2021. This series is arranged into six sub-series.

The first five sub-series consist of audio recordings of oral history interviews that have been digitized: sub-series 1: Nahum Goldmann and Stanley Karnow Interviews; sub-series 2: Nahum Goldmann and Inge Hoffmann Interviews; sub-series 3: Nahum Goldmann and Leon Abranowicz Interviews; sub-series 4: Moshe Rivlin Oral History; and sub-series 5: Guido Goldman Oral History. The recordings in sub-series 3 are in French. The recordings in sub-series 4 and 5 are about Nahum Goldmann, rather than by him. Moshe Rivlin first got to know Goldmann in the early 1950s, when he served as the Consul of Israel in New York, and their relationship spanned multiple decades. Guido Goldman is Nahum Goldmann's son. All items listed in sub-series 1-5 are digital files (originals are not available for research use).

Sub-series 6: Transcripts and Related Materials is mostly made up of transcripts, which exist for only some of the audio recordings in this series, mainly those in sub-series 2. It also contains some correspondence and other documents related to sub-series 4 and other oral history projects.

Scope and Contents

This scrapbook was disassembled by preservation officer Leslie Reicher in August 2014 because it was covered in sticky tape that was harmful to the items inside. The items in the scrapbook have been kept in their original order and photos were taken of the front cover and first page and are in this folder (item 5). The inscription on the cover of the scrapbook read: "Nahum Goldmann zum 80. Geburtstag, Jakob Altmaier zum Gedächtnis, von Herbert Wehner."

The entire scrapbook was most likely assembled and given as a gift to Nahum Goldmann circa 1974 (some sources list Goldmann's birth year as 1894).
